Whose FREADOM?

Tuesday, September 20
6:30 - 7:30 PM

The U.S. is experiencing a recent uptick in book challenges adversely impacting our schools and libraries. The Racial Unity Team will be co-hosting a panel discussion in an effort to educate the public about this wave of challenges. In addition, the panel will offer participants thoughtful strategies for how to respond to such challenges.

Co-hosted/ Presented by

Let's Talk About It: Women's Suffrage

Thursday, September 22 at 6 PM

Join in a book discussion with Dr. Tricia Peone to explore the different elements of the suffrage movement. Books are FREE and available at the library.

This project is made possible with support by the American Library Association and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Three Sisters Seed Library

We need YOU to help us grow. We are asking all borrowers to return seeds that they have saved from the plants they grew during the year. Or please consider donating purchased seed packets (it's a great time of year to pick up seeds on sale!) Thank you for helping the Three Sisters Seed Library to grow!
