

May 2021 Director's Report

We are getting even closer to the finish!

We are seeing more and more of our patrons of all ages every day and it is so good to see them!

The Parent Room and the Art Room continue to be storage for adult nonfiction until the additional shelving arrive is installed. We expected it all to be here last month but some of it was held up in production.

We will clear the Art Room as soon as possible to be able to use it for Summer Reading.

The exterior work on the walkway from the building to Chestnut Street began in April with the removal of the entire structure. The supports for the walkway are scheduled for this week, weather permitting.

The walkway will have a look similar to the covered decks and will take approximately 5 weeks to build and install, weather permitting

The flooring for the decks has been installed and patrons have been using the decks and enjoying the view.

The gallery system for hanging artwork has been added to the Adult Services and the Children's Room

The Teen Scene had a grand re-opening in April. Teens had a book spine poetry challenge, made buttons and received grab-bag prizes.

The Children's Room has had the ever-popular scavenger hunts every week. We have added coloring tables for kids of all ages. Parents and children are especially enjoying all the different window seats and reading nooks we now have in the Children's Room.

We have decided to change our summer plans and instead of doing what we did last summer which was a Covid "take and go Summer "we are going to get back to our pre Covid type of Summer programs as much as possible using the new meeting room and Art Room. Stay tuned!
